in S.C. Code Ann. Regs S103-210(1):)
Between Points and Places in S.C.)

PERSONALLY, appeared before me, Patricia Andrews who being duly sworn, deposes and states as follows:

1. My name is Patricia Andrews and I am the owner of Andrews & Associates, LLC. My business address is 109 Sailing Club Drive, Columbia, SC 29229.

2. I am giving this affidavit in support of the application of Carolina Procurement Institute, LLC, for a Class E Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity with statewide authority to move household goods to points and places throughout the state of South Carolina.

3. I am a licensed real estate broker real estate coach. I coach and assist agents with skills sets to increase their productivity and personal growth. I have 20 years of experience in the field of Criminal Justice and Real Estate. I have lived in Columbia, South Carolina since 1997.

4. The current mix of my business is 90% residential and 10% commercial. I know that there is a current demand for professional movers in this area. I have personal knowledge that the demand remains high due to low mortgage interest rates.
5. There is always a need for qualified movers to transport household goods within the state of South Carolina. I am asked to recommend household goods movers by my clients on a regular basis. The proximity to Fort Jackson and Shaw AFB provides a consistent influx of residential and commercial sales.
6. Based upon my experience, there are many companies and individual families constantly relocating to and from this area, resulting in a need for responsible & reliable moving companies. I have worked with Gary Washington in a professional capacity. I would place him on my trusted vendor list. I believe that the public interest would be served by granting Carolina Procurement Institute, LLC a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity.
